

The light has come

April 26, 2008

Say to me: The light has come.

You are healed and you can heal.

The light has come...you are saved and you can save.

The light has come.....

The way that it works (and this will be the integration now), is that the light is the integrating factor, the light is carried into the context and the context changes. This is called a miracle. That is why your reflections are getting brighter and brighter; you contact the light, the light changes the matrix.

Every time you let the light in, your dream changes, it is accelerated. The context is in alignment now with the light. Yes...

Everything is brand new.

I am trying to offer this now, this is the frequency in which you live in the correction, because you are the Corrective Principle. And so you reside within that Context which is Light, and you bring that Context with you into all contexts, you bring the Context of the Light with you into the context of your dream identity.

And now you are identifying with the Light. Yes or no?

Talk to me about the integration that is occurring to you. You are a healer.

The gifts that you have been given you, must be given in order to retain them.

That is why you are asked to demonstrate, so that you can remember that the gift has already been given you.

How do you remember that the light has come? By extending the light, by offering the light, by associating in light, and by associating with those that are in light.

Of course! It's not difficult. It is an advanced practice, because only advanced human beings see the light. Yes or no?

Until now you have been fixed upon the darkness, you have been fixed upon the problem. You can't get out on your own because you made the problem, you manufactured the problem, the problem is yours and you need help. OK?

Somewhere you asked for help, the help is here and now you associate with the solution.

You are living in the correction. And by living in the Correction, you become the correction.

That is how you wake up.

By associating with the light! It is a simple alignment.....

But what we have been looking for, are what we call happy learners.

You must learn to meet the conditions, and in order to meet the conditions of the learners, you must be happy. Yes?

This is what we call the alignment, to join your will with God's. God's will for you is perfect happiness.

What we offer you now within the context of your dream is that your struggle is over. Are you ok with that? The struggle is over. You need not struggle. The struggle is over. Why? Because the light has come.

The light has come and you can see evidence everywhere that is an indication that you have not only received, but that you are offering it, and are thereby receiving the messages of light.

Yes, it looks like thirteen grandmothers. What is that? Or one grandfather. What is that? It is a reflection that you have allowed light into the context of your dream.

You are recognizing it. You are seeing that the light is not outside of yourself, and that is the critical factor. That is an important factor at this frequency. That is the offering at this frequency. This is where the whole master, disciple, teacher, student idea collapses into a single identity which is the Holy Spirit.

Teacher-student, master-disciple, is all one idea, one identity in God. There is no difference. Hearing the message is the same as delivering the message. It is not different. Giving and receiving are the same.

I love you. I am just trying to integrate the light that you have been given. You are in a lot of light, guys trust me, you are in a lot of light, and your dreams are being adjusted. And you need a context, let's call it a conceptual context; you need an idea where in which you feel secure as your matrix is adjusted.

This is why you have an ashram, a temple, a center; this is why you are involved with this vehicle of enlightenment. You need a safe context, and it is right here. Don't worry about it. Remember He is doing everything, you are doing nothing. All you are doing is exposing yourself to the light. That is it!

Are you ok with me? I love you, I love you.....

I am trying to offer you a direct experience. The light is in you and it is the light that is delivering you. It is the light that is making the adjustments in your dream. The offering will be a bright, happy hologram of light. It is going to be an illusion anyway. But the offering will be a light dream. I am allow Jesus, God, The Holy Spirit, Josh, the Master Teacher, The thirteen grandmothers, who cares....we are going to allow someone to dream a light dream, and that someone will be you. That's all I have to say. I love you, and I am here to help you.

I am here but I am not here, that's how I can help you. And some of you are beginning to realize that you are not here along with me.

Where are you? You are everywhere. You are the light, you are the light that is bringing about the reconciliation, everywhere present. In every vehicle which is a channel for that light, you are.

In every vehicle which is a conduit or a channel for this light, you are. You are that correction, you are that alternative; you are that light. That is all. And everything is going to be adjusted.

Now your part is to allow it to change. Thank you, thank you for taking part in this.

It is a universal occurrence.....thank you, thank you, thank you!

It is another way of saying the war against your self is over.

You are taking responsibility for the whole thing. Accepting the atonement for your self!

How have you done it? Well, you are allowing it to be resolved by God.

You are allowing God to be the resolution.

Stop trying to do it on your own. You can't do it. It is not possible.

I love you, thank you.

The light has come.

Now I need you to help me with this. Everyone in this room, now, is a demonstration of the influence of the light within the context of your individual dream identity.

In other words you are a demonstration of the inherent ability of mankind to transcend its human destiny; that's what you are!

Now I need you to help me. This is your opportunity, to demonstrate.

Talk to me, teach to me...demonstrate, that you are the light in this very context.....

This is the way that you remember that you have received the gift; it is to offer it.....

Listen.....

Lesson 75. The Light Has Come.

The light has come. You are healed and you heal. The light has come. You are saved and you can save. You are at peace, and you bring peace with you wherever you go. Darkness and turmoil and death have disappeared. The light has come.

Today we celebrate the happy ending to your long dream of disaster. There are no dark dreams now.

Now you are going to be asked in a minute to accept a role or a function. What is that role? To return to the context of your dream, with the light that you received. It is called saving the world! Yes or no?

It is your job, you are not going to get out of here until you fulfill your function. I am just showing you how it is done. It is your dream.

What is the light in your dream? I need do nothing, I am awakening by Grace. Do you hear me?

You are awakening by Grace....everything you need is being given you.

It is being given you as a context, as a learning environment, and it is perfect. It is perfect for where you are in your transition.

Your only function is to recognize it.

What is your function? Be grateful, be happy, the light has come, it is not difficult. Can you handle it?

You can teach, you don't need me, you can teach as well as I do.

Why can you teach it as well as I can? Because it is true, and you know it is true. It takes a little practice. But you have been taught in this environment to embody the alternative, in other words this is your kundalini experience. You are the entirety of the alternative. You are embodying the light. You are embodying that activating agency.

You are married to God. That is what it means to be the savior of the world.

I love you, thank you. Good.....

...the light has come. Today the time of light begins for you and everyone.

Are you seeing evidence that that is true? If you need proof that it is true....my suggestion is open your eyes. Of course it is true, there is evidence all around you,. You needed to learn to see it, and that is today's lesson.

It is a new era, in which a new world is born. The old one has left no trace upon it in its passing.

Today we see a different world, because the light has come.

Our exercises for today will be happy ones, in which we offer thanks for the passing of the old and the beginning of the new.

By the way, is it ok that suffering is past? Let me hear you.....absolutely and all together! Who says so,? I say so! I love you guys. The light has come.

Your will is done.

You have been driving nails into your own hands... this is a new era. Trust me on this; there is so much light, I promise you that this cycle will be very short. Ok? In fact it will be so short, you barely will have time to say thank you. I will turn that around for you: When you are only grateful, there will be no time. Thank you!

Consistent gratitude is the end of time.....sounds like a t-shirt, or at least a book.

No shadows from the past remain to darken our sight and hide the world forgiveness offers us.

Today we will accept the new world as what we want to see. We will be given what we desire.

Say to me: Salvation is a gift that I have decided to accept. Thank you, thank you, than you.... by Grace I live. Thank you Father, thank you.

We will to see the light; the light has come.

Our longer practice periods will be devoted to looking at the world that our forgiveness shows us. This is what we want to see, and only this. Our single purpose makes our goal inevitable. Today the real world rises before us a in gladness, to be seen at last. Sight is given us, now that the light has come.

We do not want to see the ego's shadow on the world today. We see the light, and in it we see Heaven's reflection lie across the world. Begin the longer practice periods by telling yourself the glad tidings of your release:

The light has come. I have forgiven the world.

This is the reason you are so grateful, you are so grateful because you realize that when the light has come, you recognize that it is simply time. It comes for no reason at all. It comes because it has always been here. You have just demonstrated willingness to receive it. Did you hear it? That is it! You just demonstrated a willingness to receive it, finally.

In other words, you run out of options. Yes or no? You run out of options... there is nothing left. I love you. Do you see salvation has nothing to do with you? It is a gift, up until now you have been avoiding it. Now you have decided to receive it, to accept it. You will see evidence of it everywhere. It is a gift that has been with you since the beginning. It is the light you brought with you when you came. It is the light you brought with you when you came...it is the light you brought with you when you came....now it is beginning to shine, and you see me as that reflection.

Dwell not upon the past today. Keep a completely open mind, washed of all past ideas and clean of every concept you have made. You have forgiven the world today. You can look upon it now as if you never saw it before. You do not know yet what it looks like. You merely wait to have it shown to you. While you wait, repeat several times, slowly and in complete patience:

The Light has come. I have forgiven the world.

I am responsible for what I see.....the light has come.

Now, the way that it was presented to you this morning, fundamentally is the easiest way to prevent confusion. It is presented as a story. You are telling the story of your awakening. This is just a story, its an idea that is unfolding in time. It is just a story, it is not in any way substantial, you can't be hurt within the context of a story, it is just a story. Nothing real is occurring. Finally what I am offering you now as this Corrective Agency is; nothing real can be threatened, nothing unreal exists.

You are learning it. How do you learn it? By telling a story. You are telling a story...this is the story of how you came in to a time sequence, you gathered all of your effects, and you left. That is the story of A Course in Miracles. The story of you as the light of the world! The story of Jesus, the story of everyone that transcends this condition!

Can I offer you something? You were successful, you succeeded, you made it, you escaped! How do I know? The light has come. I am looking right at it. It is self evident now, the dream is over! You have escaped, yeah.

How does it unfold in time? Who knows.... who cares! It makes no difference at all. It will appear to be you within the context of your own dream identity, who cares? I don't care. I am overlooking the context altogether, I am only looking at the light as the context, when I look at you, I see the light at work. That is what I see! I see the light as the context of your dream.

I could care less about the appearances that it's taking. It is going to be light in any case. The light is the context of your dream, and that light is you. You are seeing reflections of that light, or you wouldn't be here with me.

The reason that you are with me, is because your dream has a light context. Can you hear me?

We call this a gathering. The gathering of The Teachers of God, or an intersection of dreams!... I know that you are dreaming in a particular context, but I am not concerned, because I know the light is animating your dream. Can you hear it? I trust my brothers who are one with me. Are you ok?

Now we are joining... how are we joining? We are joining in light, we are joining as this Agency of reconciliation...there is only one Agency of reconciliation, and it is us. Call it The Holy Spirit. Yes.

Who is the Holy Spirit? Us, we are that. Are you ok?
I love you guys....thank you.

Let it be simple, there is nothing simpler than the truth. I love you.

It is going to require some practice, I will use a real dirty word; vigilance..... nobody likes vigilance, but it is going to require vigilance, a dedication or a practice, yes. Or perhaps some changes in your life style, I don't know. Perhaps some changes in the content of your dream.... My question is why do you care? If you are waking up, if you are leaving here, you won't remember any of this, so why are you concerned? Now that is a legitimate question.

If you are concerned about the outcome, obviously, you are not submitted to grace. Because when you are living in Grace, all outcomes will make you happy, because you are happy prior to the outcome! You are happy and therefore the outcome is happy!

Are you ok? I love you.

These are all gems, maybe you want to write that down.

I love you guys. Thank you, it is a privilege to be here, it is a privilege to serve. You know it is a privilege to serve, this is what you discover when the light has come.

When the light has come, you are happy only in service. Only when you are serving another, you are happy, that is your happiness. Your happiness is service.

Say to me: I am here on His behalf. That's right, now you are happy.

It is the only thing that will make you happy. You won't be happy if you are here for any other reason.

Now if you are here on His behalf, then everything you do will make you happy. Yes. And not only that, but you will be given everything that you need in order to fulfill that assignment.

Including a boyfriend, or whatever you think you need.

I am not judging that, I wouldn't want to do it without a boyfriend.

Thanks guys, anyone else have anything else to add? The floor is open. The floor is open because the door is wide open!

You are being scripted from the other side, so I trust that whatever you say will be perfect. It has been scripture in Heaven!

The light has come. I have forgiven the world.

Realize that your forgiveness entitles you to vision. Understand that the Holy Spirit never fails to give the gift of sight to the forgiving. Believe He will not fail you now. You have forgiven the world. He will be with you as you watch and wait. He will show you what true vision sees. It is His Will, and you have joined with Him. Wait patiently for Him. He will be there. The light has come. You have forgiven the world.

Tell Him you know you cannot fail because you trust in Him. And tell yourself you wait in certainty to look upon the world He promised you. From this time forth you will see differently. Today the light has come. And you will see the world that has been promised you since time began, and in which is the end of time ensured.

The shorter practice periods, too, will be joyful reminders of your release. Remind yourself every quarter of an hour or so that today is a time for special celebration. Give thanks for mercy and the Love of God. Rejoice in the power of forgiveness to heal your sight completely. Be confident that on this day there is a new beginning. Without the darkness of the past upon your eyes, you cannot fail to see today. And what you see will be so welcome that you will gladly extend today forever.

Say then:

The light has come. I have forgiven the world.

Should you be tempted, say to anyone who seems to pull you back into darkness:

The light has come. I have forgiven the world.

We dedicate this day to the serenity in which God would have you be. Keep it in your awareness of yourself and see it everywhere today, as we celebrate the beginning of your vision and the sight of the real world, which has come to replace the unforgiving world you thought, was real.

Thanks guys...

Everyone ok? Got it? Do you have it? Do you understand? If you don't understand, raise your hand... don't be afraid, no one is looking.....

It is simple, it has become simple....it is meant to be effortless, because you are not doing anything.

Not only will He will tell you what to do, He will do it for you!

The light has come!

Remember you teach only to remember you are a whole part of the solution.

That is how you demonstrate.

(someone speaks.....)

Josh. What you just described is a broader perspective, you are really describing or defining a death episode; Jesus will teach it as a loss of body awareness, a death episode for an instant... you are not aware of the body and your perspective is all encompassing, whole. You can see, you recognize the thoughts in your awareness and you are aware that those thoughts are generating shapes, forms in a context. You are perfectly aware of that, but you are also aware that you are free. You are free, you are not contained, and in that instant, I sign you up.

In other words, the instant that you recognize that you are free.....the impulse to serve arises spontaneously, and you are given a mission, an assignment, and then you enter back in to the context and you carry with you the memory of the resolution which is that you are not contained.

Trust me; the problems that arise within the context of the human condition are very, very, very small. You literally have to reintroduce them into the context of your dream in order for them to have any significance at all.

Coming from outside the frame, you see that all your problems are solved. Nothing needs to be done. It is already resolved, it is over, in other words.

Let me collapse the cycle for you now; the problem that you see is already over. "I have a problem of dedicating myself wholly to the spiritual process, because I am concerned about survival."

That problem has already been resolved. And this is where trust comes in.

Trust is the key, the key for you at this frequency. Trust that it has been resolved. Trust that you need do nothing. Trust that Your Father knows what you need before you ask for it. Of course! The next step has already been taken by you. Did you hear me? The next step has already been taken by you.

What happens next? Don't worry... you have already taken the step. Trust me....you have already transcended this condition. This is why you become a happy learner, because you realize that you have already transcended the problem.

You are no longer animating the suffering, associating with a non-existent problem. In other words, you are free, and you bring freedom with you, and that is today's lesson.

I am trying to make it as accessible to you as I can.

It is not always easy.....but it is getting easier. The world is losing its grip on you, because you are letting it go. Your grip on it was its grip on you!

Thank you, I love you, I love you....you made it... you are free.

Thank you, it is very new....

Loving one another is becoming very fashionable. Thank you, I love you guys.

When you have that experience, what you realize is that it is not that you are not here, is that there is no here. That is what you just said. You are certain.....I am not afraid to be here, because there is no here. You are embodying the light, but it is the same light here as it is there. There is the paradox resolved; same light that you are here is the light that you are out in the universe, and that is what I just said.

When you have a vision of those who are walking with you on the other side, that is this....that is what this is. You are already on the other side. You are the light on the other side, it just looks like this, it could be like anything, the light doesn't make the distinctions, doesn't matter what it looks like, you are already awake, you are already that light and I love you guys.

This is all good stuff. You are coming into a brighter realization, recognition of yourself; not fooled by appearances anymore, you look here and all you see is the light. Because the light is all around you....the light has come. This is it; this is the frequency where the light has come. This frequency is available to you now; it is available to everyone here. My suggestion is to access it. You are not here, it is not the location; it's a frequency.

And how do you do it? By desiring it, by loving it, by demonstrating it, by teaching it! It is not difficult, it requires a little practice at first, but the rewards are great. The rewards of teaching!

Thank you, I love you
Namaste
